

FORMER SMITHFIELD MARKET (AREA 3)

ABIGAIL WILLS

---

The Former Smith field Market site has been flattened and is encompassed by an impenetrable fence. It is on the edge of the city centre and is ripe for another development. It would be nice as an inner city park as per London, Paris, etc.

I went in one of the few breaks in a month of rain just before sunset. I walked around the perimeter; managing to get kicked out of the Travelodge when I asked to access an upper corridor to take a panoramic view having loitered around the apartment blocks where no-one was answering. I was followed around the last quarter by a group of drugged up homeless people who were concerned for my safety and wanted to make sure I got back to my car. They were very friendly but it was slightly unnerving.

I was overwhelmed by the number of interesting images.
