

FORMER SMITHFIELD MARKET (AREA 3)

MAX WATTS

Earlier this year, I photographed Upper Dean Street, along the perimeter of the former Smithfield Market. I returned to the area to photograph the edges of the market by continuing my walk along Upper Dean Street, pausing briefly in Dean Street, before turning left into Pershore Street. I followed the road down and round into Sherlock Street, and along Barford Street, before turning left into Bradford Street and walking further along the B4100 before returning to my starting point.

To read about the history of the market visit William Dargue's 'Smithfield – History of Birmingham, Places A to Y', which includes images by Phyllis Nicklin. To find out more about the future of the former market visit smithfieldbirmingham.co.uk. To see some of the plans in pictures visit the BBC.
